General concepts

Relationships of a free nature are a concrete decision of the two partners to build relationships without obligation. In such pairs of relationships, there is never jealousy, lies or demands. As far as relations are free, it depends on the choice of partners.

At the same time, partners have the right to use flirting with other people. Most of all, free relationships are chosen by young couples aged 18 and over. As for the question of fidelity, then it is inviolable, because from an emotional point of view, people are tied one to one. Therefore, from the point of view of spiritual meaning, no changes occur.

People who have chosen a relationship of a free nature, believe that mutual action between partners will not break, and therefore give their half a relationship without boundaries. It is worth knowing that this relationship is not considered a betrayal, and an indifferent attitude towards your partner. Most of all, in such relations plays the role of the process of trust and respect, which is replaced by jealousy and control.

If you recall what is forbidden, then betrayal in a relationship is practically reduced to a minimum. This relationship is most suitable for those couples in terms of which there are no children, family debts and so on.

If in the relations of free character, at least one of the partners changes, then the second, as always, forgives this betrayal. And all because building a relationship with a new person will be much harder than supporting those that already exist.

With treason in such a relationship, one of the partners feels not very pleasant emotions. In comparison with those people who have relations of a standard kind, people with relationships of a free nature have completely different psychology.

It's safe to say that people choose relationships of a free character only because they want to enjoy moments of love. Such people will never suffer from a lowered self-esteem, and also respect with respect to what they have chosen.

Free relations without obligations

And, so, what does the relationship mean? Rules of relations of a free nature have the form, as if the couple has an intimate relationship, but can also flirt with another person at the same time.

At the same time, there is not a quarrel between the partners. But, it should be taken into account that only those who are able to forgive the process of treason and maintain such relations further can apply such relations.
