

The Word Revealed

A person is shown in silhouette, sitting in a meditative pose on a dark, jagged mountain ridge. They are holding a glowing, golden orb in their hands, which illuminates their face and the surrounding area. The background is a vast, dark night sky filled with stars and the Milky Way galaxy, which appears as a bright, hazy band of light stretching across the sky. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Dedication

This book is addressed to all mortals. It is a source of wisdom that emanates from the creator who in his magnanimous will allowed the transmission of this knowledge through me. Therefore, to him, all glory and honor!

I also dedicate these texts especially to all skeptics and unbelievers of life. May they inspire themselves and try to be better human beings. In the end, they will discover the way, the truth and the life and will be transformed. So, thank you all!

Thanks

I thank first of all the spiritual father who loves me as his son. To my family, my relatives, my acquaintances, neighbors, co-workers, my readers and all who contribute and encourage literature.

I also remember all those who have passed through my life and for one reason or another have turned away: My school friends, teachers, former co-workers, teachers of life, road companions. To all a big hug and I hope to find them one day in peace and harmony. Stay with God!

"Don't let your heart be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house there are many mansions. If it were not so, I would have told you. I'll get you a place. And when I go and prepare a place for you, I will go again and take you to me, so that where I am, you may be also. Where I am going, you know the way.

Thomas said unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goes, and how can we know the way? Jesus answered, I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you knew me, you would know my father also; now you know him and have seen him. "

Introduction

The revealed word is a set of texts revealed by the gift of wisdom provided by Yahweh. The goal is to inform and broaden the vision of each one to read about the most varied previously selected themes.

Reading "The revealed word" is an honor for those humans who have the essence of the spiritual father. With these few lines, they will learn to evolve further. It is also intended for the less favored and those who are sunk in vices. May they take advantage of this blessing and make a firm decision to change their lives. My father and I are waiting for you. Anyway, the book is a destination for all who enjoy the art of reading.

Talk with dad

Somewhere in the outback of Pernambuco, Aldivan Teixeira Tôrres, common: Son of God, Divine, Emanuel, Messiah, seer and little dreamer finds himself in a conflicting state. Everything in his life was directed towards the consecration of desires and powers. Against this, he was opposed to envy, persecution, slander, false friends and his own restlessness. Resulting in a conflict in general circulating through his body, soul and heart. In order to calm down, the time comes to talk to your father at a certain time of day.

He was on the terrace of his residence from where he could see the stars visible because it was night. This very day he was determined to speak frankly with the one who had begotten him in the early days. A conversation between father and son.

Making sure of his sixth sense that there was no one around, he sits on the hard, smooth floor made of cement, sand, water and mortar. Using his powerful mind, he awakens the spirit of Yahweh that dwells in all places. It then begins to communicate:

Father, my father, I need your word. I am still embarrassed and confused about my stay on Earth. Would not it be time to fully reveal ourselves to the world? My spirit persists in this and I ask for your guidance.

There is a moment of silence. In sequence, a white cloud descends from space and slowly descends to the garden of the Aldivan's house. Within reach, one descends from the cloud and begins to speak with the Son of God.

—Diva, my son, I know you and I completely understand you. You are my son, you have divine consciousness and free will. I will accept your suggestion because I love you. If you want to touch the humans, then I will. And so, it shall be done.

—I know father, you made me so great that I can by myself define the future of the universe, people's and mine. I have only consulted you as a symbol of respect and obedience and so that humankind recognizes my humility.

— Yeah, that's fair. I created it. From now on, I give you my gift completely so that you can end the stereotypes. I am sick of fanatics and false prophets who distort my words and commandments, "I am not this God that they paint, only you know my will, my power and my soul deeply. You are my beloved son and our strength will transform the world. We will make people reflect a little more about their actions and life in general.

—Yes, my father. I'm also sick of those who use religion to frighten others and make money. I will not allow these deceivers to feast in heaven because my kingdom is destined for the righteous and the poor redeemed sinners.

—So be it. Fulfill your mission, show our words and conquer the world. As for me, I will always be by your side, all the days of your life. "The gates of hell shall not prevail over thee as I promised.

—I love him.

—I love you as I do. I need to resolve urgent business now.

—Go in peace!

The spirit of Yahweh returns to the cloud and in a matter of seconds wins the space. Now the son of God was fully convinced of his decision. Leaving the terrace, he enters the house, goes through two rooms, returns to his room, sits in the chair next to his desk, switches on the computer and opens the typing program. Ready, "The revealed word" begins to draw itself here.

The Beginning of Man's Walk on Earth

Yahweh God and his children have always existed, are consubstantial with one another in full communion. Already the universe as we know it came about fifteen billion years ago and the planet earth is only about five billion years old.

In the beginning, The Earth was just a ball of gases and dust that swirled around the sun. Over time, the elements were gathering, the temperature and pressure diminished, the earth's crust and water were taking shape beyond the layers to make life possible.

The appearance of the first organisms took place in the sea, being the beings of this time small spheres protected by membrane in point of dividing. With the evolution of time, they have united to other living beings arising the mechanisms of reproduction and photosynthesis. After a long period, colonization of the surface with the emergence of terrestrial plants and animals.

Specifically, mankind has appeared about two million years ago in the region that now encompasses parts of Africa, Asia, Europe, Indonesia and Oceania, and unlike mankind it has never been quite good. Yahweh God created in man the duality light and darkness giving him free will from his creation. He did this by his great love for his creation, created the free man and his image and likeness.

An important fact also concerns the fact of creation. Yahweh God, my father, at first did not just create a man and a woman in a mythological paradise. The creation was multiple, generating a man and a woman in each ethnicity and race. In the future, these beings eventually found themselves begetting mongrel descendants. From the beginning, man had the liberty and the intelligence necessary to break the world. So, it is meaningless to place as the beginning of creation and a woman trapped in a paradise and much less blame the woman or a snake for the onset of sin even because the notion of sin is relative, varying from person to person. Duality is undeniable. However, some enlightened beings have evolved so much that they have gone so far as to negate their negative side. They are the famous saints, but not the ones elected by men, but by my father who weighs the hearts and knows all. My father will certainly give just the right reward to men for their work on earth. Each will have the place it deserves.

My brothers, I also wanted to tell you not to get carried away by rumors or preconceptions. Everything we see today, except the cultural and scientific-technological revolution, existed before the example of ignorance, intolerance, fear, shame, social rules, distinct sexual choice among other factors. From man erectus to modern man there has been an evolution in contexts already mentioned, but in others the situation remains the same. The same example can be used for the environment in which we live. Many times, we admire ourselves with phenomena never seen before by us. However, these same phenomena have already occurred in times past and the ancients have noticed it. That is why the saying is true: "Nothing on earth is created, everything evolves and copied in alternating cycles. "This is the basics I wanted to tell you breaking beliefs and stereotypes.

The Question of the Curse of Yahweh

My name is Aldivan Teixeira Tôrres also known as seer, Divine, son of God, little dreamer and man of the cave. I am the spiritual son of the Lord just like other people while Jesus is the bodily child. We both, the father, the holy spirit, the beings of light including men and angels of this world represent the good. This benign force is at the disposal of anyone and can make the impossible possible. Just have faith in our name.

I want to clarify some important points about the curses attributed to the being and holy name of my father. First, Yahweh does not judge or condemn anyone. Everyone in this world is solely responsible for their actions and the consequences of their choice. Therefore, crimes, falsehoods, sufferings, arguments, accidents, the unexpected, and destiny are completely independent of my father's will. Despite being supreme in everything, he has left us completely liberated in our faculties. Second, Yahweh God always believes in the human being and however much he is at the bottom he always expects a reconciliation and forgiveness. I also believe in humanity and I love it even with all its faults.

In short, God does not curse or swear badly to his children, however bad they may be. If you read something about it, disregard it because it does not come from it. My father is a perfect being and full of love to give to his children. So, do not fear brothers! Stay in the path of goodness and in case they are far away make a change of life because there is nothing better in the world than to have peace and happiness on earth and after death. In fact, death itself does not exist. We are transformed and glorified in him who builds us and redeems us. Amen!

The ark and the flood as symbols

A long time ago the earth suffered a great universal catastrophe indisputable from the scientific point of view and reported philosophically in various cultures. Our planet was covered with water and most of the terrestrial beings succumbed. However, one question remains: What does Yahweh God have to do with this?

Analyzing this important historical phenomenon, I have something to say: The God that I believe and love that is designated as my father is not selective. For him, all humans are equal, what sets them apart is their values, intelligence and ability. So, he would in no way have chosen a human to survive to the detriment of others because he has characteristics of kindness, wisdom, and justice. He too was not responsible for the flood because of human sin. God the Father in his wisdom created the earth and other stars independently so that everything that happens in this environment is only the consequences of natural events of which he has no responsibility at all.

How, then, can we see human legends on this subject such as the epic of Gilgamesh and the biblical account? They should be seen as a sign. Noah is the righteous one who, because of his works, is chosen by God to be saved from a Universal Martyrdom which can be interpreted in the plant-harvest relationship, which is inclusive, that is, as long as man follows the precepts of the creator chosen for a salvation, help that is open to every human being.

Yahweh is not a hangman God who judges you or who keeps pointing out your sins. He wants to be discovered little by little and if you brother opens up to his light and believe in his name he can turn your life into joy. Because he is willing to understand you, to support you and to help you in all that is necessary by making you a Noah, the man saved from the tempestuous forces of fate. So be it!

God's covenant with men

Early in life on earth were Yahweh God, his sons and the first humans. Even invisible, the spirits of light guided humanity in every way. Then a first covenant was made between them.

The chief commandments that Yahweh God gave them were: To love God above all things as well as to love one another; Do not slander, offend or defame the other; be tolerant; not cultivating envy, pride, hatred or anger; not steal; not to pervert the right of the orphan and the widow; not to practice usury; Instead of lending, give willingly; Practice respect, treat equality, be fair and honest; always believe, give good advice, be an example of a friend, father, mother, partner, spouse or child; welcome and treat those who are in advanced age well, never refuse to help wherever possible; not to justify oneself, to be loyal, sincere and faithful in their relations, to be more human giving an example to others; Have personality, humility, patience and dedication in your projects; Never give up on dreams or stop fighting because I can do everything through the one who strengthens me.

The symbolic moment of delivery of these commandments was on the Mountain to the human Moses, then Jesus came to fulfill and solve outstanding issues in the law. A new era began for the redeemed humanity.

I can say that I am also one of them, I know that I have come a long way to teach a humanity more and more distanced from God. The purpose is to wake up to this new reality, to follow the commandments that all other things will be added. Do not worry about the future, what to wear or about food, for it is the heathen who seek this out of ignorance of Yahweh. "I am" assures you of a full future in your kingdom.

The smallness of man and the greatness of God

All that exists and all that is to exist belong only to Yahweh and his sons. He in his greatness, which includes omnipotence, omnipresence, and omniscience, wanted by his great love to share his glory with mortals and immortals. In the Terrestrial sphere, multiple dimensions and multiple beings were created with the objective of performing works necessary for the good ordering of the planet and of breaking the conquest of its own happiness.

In the carnal plane, man now occupies the main role in the coordination of the planet. Unfortunately, with the advancement of civilization and conquest, it ended up mostly self-sufficient, that is, a false independent God. This fact is like a blindfold in his eyes preventing him from seeing what he really is. I tell you brethren, there is no one on this planet who can call himself great. They all share the weakness of the flesh and are exposed to criminality, opportunistic diseases, calamities, setbacks, failures, sufferings, disappointments, fear, unexpectedness, chance, and bodily death itself. How then do you live with these possibilities and be happy on Earth?

Answering the above question, questions should be given to my father. It is enough for man to fulfill his duty and cultivate the good values already mentioned that the respective blessing comes from the heavens. Man must recognize his smallness and firmly believe in a single God capable of accomplishing the impossible. On the contrary, pride destroys man and sinks him into a pit with no way out. When man wants to go beyond his faculties and investigate debatable mysteries, God will change the conditions and never find an answer. The human being is weak, has limits and only becomes great in faith with the father who provides the victories. Therefore, brethren, let us be humble and seek the kingdom of the father first. He desires from the bottom of his heart his success.

The promise that binds the creature and the creator

Everything in life has a why and a reason, absolutely nothing is by chance. So, it is with humanity. Everyone who comes to this planet, place of atonement and trials, has a mission to fulfill. So, it is with everyone. Big or small, we have a role on the planet that is vital to the continuation of life.

Understanding what God requires of us and faithfully fulfilling it is a great obstacle for all. The many difficulties imposed on the way make many give up their own personality and fall into corruption and failure. What do you do to fix this and overcome it? It has a very wise saying that "God writes right by crooked lines." Reinforcing this saying, we have to fulfill our role, pray to the father sincerely requesting the fulfillment of his promise in our life. Yahweh God is sovereign, he animates the human soul, and surely what is written will happen. However, "Do your part that I will help you," is another saying that complements the first and makes perfect sense.

Exemplifying the text above, I will speak from my personal experience. I began to write between the years 2006-2007, a basic self-help text that typed gave exactly thirty-seven pages. That same year, I started my upper degree course and a job in the public service. At that moment, it came from a very complicated personal and financial situation. On the personal side, I had lived

"A Dark Night of the Intense and Dangerous Soul" which almost made me succumb completely. In financial matters, I did not have money for anything, nor to buy a simple booklet (That would aid in public tenders) nor much less a computer that was my dream.

I started typing my book during work hours because I had no choice. Within two months it was finished. It was also at this time that I quit my job because of force majeure and I only dedicated my faculty. Having completed my book, I sent it to a commercial publisher and waited for the response deadline.

Three months later, next to the book came a polite and gentle letter, where they discarded the publication. It was my first shock and literary failure that shook my structures a lot. No way out, I just concentrated on my studies and stopped writing. At that time, there was no possibility of becoming a writer.

It was at this moment of uncertainty that the forces of good acted mysteriously. On two occasions, I had the necessary proof that my dream was still possible. Leaving college with my little book in hand after showing some colleagues, I received the following message from Yahweh, my father, "Aldivan, do not worry. You're still going to win. You will be "the seer," the most respected guy in literature. " This news to me was a shock at the time. First, why did not he understand the scope of the message: Seer? As well? I had written only a single book, and even then, it had been rejected. It did not make sense.

The second part of the message was revealed when I arrived from college in my beloved village. I was passing through the central square when, at a certain moment, I went into ecstasy. In a matter of seconds, I could see several book titles, the angels singing and at the end the phrase: "The son of God will conquer the world." It also made no sense at the time because I was completely out of prospect because of my problems. However, I had to believe in my victory even if I delayed, because the promise came from Yahweh and it was indisputable.

Time has passed a little. I was able to write a romance biography in the years of 2009 during the vacation period. I still had no computer. Then I lovingly kept the manuscript and life continued. I finished college, bought a computer in 2011 with my savings, typed the manuscript and it was accepted and published in the year 2011.

Even so, the situation was still not good. I had fulfilled the dream of publishing a book, but I did not even know the publishing market, the forms of publication and dissemination, and the financial conditions were still very bad. I had to drop my dream a second time and dedicate myself to public tenders.

With great dedication on my part, I went on a public tender with a reasonable salary. I took possession with thirty years. Thanks to Yahweh, I now had more prospects of fulfilling my dreams. Five months later, I rekindled my hope and went back to writing. From there, I did not stop.

The public service gives me some security so I can write in my spare time. Today, I have more than ten completed works.

That first book, written in 2009, entitled "Opposing Forces", the first title in the series "The Seer", has so far been translated into Italian, French, English, Russian and Spanish. Then it is the beginning of the fulfillment of the promises of Yahweh for my life, the conquest of the world.

In short, we must believe in God and his promises because he is capable of this and more. Blessed be my spiritual father!

The danger of lies

Yahweh God is our true, caring and helpful father who expects the best of us. In order to follow your path of light, we must maintain integrity and suitability above any evidence. Among the necessary requirements is the way we behave. One thing Yahweh God does not support is the fact of lying.

Regardless of the consequences, truth must always be practiced in all situations. With truth, we can be respected and admired for who we really are. As the saying goes, the truth sets us free from all sin.

An example of a lie that only damages our lives is the biblical example of Abram and his wife. Sarai on his move to Egypt when there was a great famine in his country. Because his wife was beautiful and afraid of death, Abram combined to present her as his sister to the Egyptians. He did so. The result was that without knowledge of the truth, she was taken to Pharaoh's palace and taken to wife. Later, when the truth was discovered he was expelled with her from the country giving a clear example that the lie has a short leg and only causes discord.

Therefore, truth is an indispensable virtue for the man who wants a sincere, serious and lasting relationship with God. Always practice this and other beneficial values.

The Tithing Question

Thus, says Yahweh: "Let a man work and strive for his goals, and I will bless him. From all that I give you, separate ten percent and repay as an offering. In doing so, I will bless you even more and your happiness will be multiplied. "

The question of tithing is indisputable and exemplified in several biblical examples. The difference is how to deal with this tribute. First, we have the free will to decide whether or not we want to contribute. Many people really do not have enough for their own livelihood and then Yahweh God, my father, will understand. In relation to those who have good financial conditions, it is very good to fulfill this requirement. However, do not do it out of obligation. Contribute to the tithe to somehow reciprocate the favor of the creator who is continually shown in our lives.

Another pertinent question in this respect concerns the destination of this tax. To whom should we give ten percent of the tithe? If you have thought of your church, it is your choice, but it is not the only one. We should look into what to apply this value carefully and in my case, I choose relatives or family members who need help. I feel happy to help them and to break my tithing obligation. Another advantage is that I know exactly where my money will be spent and this makes me quieter. I have no confidence in certain leaders of institutions who often use the money for their own benefit. Therefore, use tithing money well and not necessarily on the religious route, because my father does not need anything material. It exists by itself being omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent. Have more faith, brothers!

Fulfill paper with submission

The spiritual and material realms in which beings were created are stratified into several classes which together form their hierarchy. Hierarchy is and always will be necessary for the good ordering of things in their broad form.

Whatever your role, brother, perform your assignments with promptness, quality, efficiency, gentleness, education, and honesty. You will feel useful to society, to yourself and to the blessed father. Yes, great will be your reward here on earth and in the heavenly realms.

In the kingdom of my father, everyone will be treated with love, Respect, affection, understanding and their causes will be promptly met. Just recognize your limitation, have respect and adoration for your father, abide by his laws and have faith in his name. Nothing bad will happen to you and your happiness is guaranteed. There will never be any more pain, disappointment, death or suffering. Thus, says Yahweh: "The righteous shall shine as the sun in my kingdom."

So be it!

The circumcision of the spirit

Yahweh God established the Covenant with the human Abraham in the following terms: "Circumcise the flesh of the foreskin. This will be the sign of the covenant between me and you. When they are eight days old, all the children of every generation shall be circumcised; also, the slaves born at home or bought from strangers, who are not of your race. " (Gen 17,11-12)

The circumcision proposed by Yahweh was only a sign of the acceptance of his project that at that time encompassed Abraham and his people. Nothing more. Similar to an alliance in a marriage or any agreement between parties.

With the coming of Jesus, the earth, it became clear that the most important circumcision is the circumcision of spirit where the human being has to throw off his sins and is reborn as a new man. We must fulfill the commandments given to Moses and the teachings proposed by Christ and still apply them according to the evolution of society which has changed greatly in the last two millennia. It all comes down to: Loving God about all things, your neighbor as yourself and do what others would like you to do with yourself. In doing this, the peace of Yahweh will accompany him wherever you goes.

Our God is the God of the impossible

Yahweh God is very great. His attributes are incomparable and incomprehensible to the fragile human mind. In order to have an idea of its power, just take a look around: The planet earth itself and its wonderful elements, our galaxy and the very infinity of the universe. Everything was done by his order and is constantly renewed.

We also have biblical examples of her ability: Sarah who gave birth at ninety years, the crossing of Moses and his people in the Red Sea, the plagues against Egypt, the prophet that was locked with the lions and remained safe and sound, the servants who were thrown into the fire and suffered nothing, the whale that swallowed Jonah but did not digest it, the teachings of Jesus and his miracles. Above all, I am witness of his action in my life, which freed me from a dark night of the deep soul.

The science of God surpasses human understanding and must be respected. If you have any problems, talk to my father, ask him and if it is his will the miracle will happen. Now, you have to have the faith you need for it. Verily I say unto you, "If you have the faith the size of a mustard, you may say to this mountain, go from here to there and it will go. Nothing will be impossible for you." (Matt 17:20)

Amen!

The just and the relationship with the salvation of Yahweh

Yahweh God, my father, is a perfect being in his attributes. By being perfect, he looks for followers to the height in the existing dimensions. The earth is a planet of low evolution, technically called the world of atonement and proves and that is in a degrading moment. Today shows a dispersed, transcended and extremely materialistic humanity. Today, we value the political and financial power we have and not what we are. This is a deviation that spreads more and more.

I tell you, brothers, my father and I think differently. We seek the exception, we want men and women who commit to truth, dignity and honesty. We seek the value of the human soul that is demonstrated in small and great acts: In humility, charity, work, tolerance, forgiveness, understanding, friendship, respect, complicity, sincerity and mutual love between the beings. These are the righteous and through them the universe is continually maintained.

But Yahweh God and we, his children, are so superior that we are always open arms to the sunk in the vices of the flesh. Even suffering and disappointing ourselves with the infidels, we wait until the last breath of life for a reconciliation. Our unfathomable mercy is exemplified in the example of Jesus on the cross when he forgave a criminal. We thus do the most important exercise in the world: When the gates of heaven are fully opened to the sinful human showing the grace and glory of God, hallelujah!

Loyalty to proof

The believer-God relationship has to be based on trust, truth, faithfulness, and faith. But would there be limits to this submission and fidelity? We see the clear biblical example when Yahweh in order to test the love of Abraham asks him to go up the mountain and sacrifice his son in worship to him. Even though Abraham has an immense love for his son, Abraham accepts the proposal, climbs the mountain, and at the moment of his immolation, the angel of Yahweh appears and prevents him. God did not want human sacrifice was like I said just a test of fidelity. Yahweh, my father, is the God of life in abundance.

By submitting readily to the Lord's will, Abraham became an example of courage and total surrender to the designs of the Creator. This must be our relationship with God: A mutual exchange where the human being gives himself body and soul to his mission regardless of the results or necessary requirements. The greatest commandment of all is thus fulfilled: "To love God above all things." To the father all honor, glory and adoration always.

The choice of man and the choice of Yahweh
