The first day of miracles

The first day of miracles is the day of creation. The purpose of this day is for you to become the creator of your life!

What do we do? We express the intention to live these 12 days miraculously.

It is best if you write down your message on a small scroll and keep it for the entire period. This will allow the Universe to declare its intention and create the necessary space to attract miracles into your life. It is necessary to indicate your name, briefly formulate your request and do not forget to specify the dates.

Your appeal may look something like this:

«I, (name), ask from... to ... (period of time) to prepare a space for the manifestation of miracles.»

The main task is to feel yourself part of the universe. If you really want to create something, then trust your Higher Self, because it knows a lot more about what really can bring you joy and happiness than you yourself. Let this be the creation of your Higher Self, for your Higher Self is a part of you that embraces all dimensions of reality.

The second day of miracles

The second day of miracles is the day of support.

So, yesterday you launched a period of miracles and expressed your intention. Now you need to call your support group so that your heavenly patrons will prepare events and situations for you. Trust your guardian angels, who, with care and love, will lead you to the most harmonious outcome and take care that the chain of events develop in the most harmonious way for you. The task of this day is to create around itself a space for transformation.

What do we do? We appeal for support to the higher forces and ask them to create an environment for changes for the better in your chosen sphere. We ask them to prepare for you situations that will change your life for the better. Trust in the universe, your Higher Self. Your heavenly protectors will help you.

Get the support of friends if they understand what you are doing. It's always great when there are like-minded people around you. However, you decide whether or not to tell your friends about this practice. But remember that you need support, not condemnation, from others. Therefore, it may be better to keep everything secret until the end of the practice. At first, make sure of its effectiveness from your own experience, and then share it with your friends if you wish.

The third day of miracles

The third day of miracles is the day of plans and creativity. In order for the Universe to understand that your intentions are serious, it is best to express your desire through what you do best. You can write poetry, write novels, sing songs, embroider a cross or draw. Basically, you are doing a favourite hobby.

What do we do? For the next 7 days we are planning a small project that will express your desire. But immediately I want to note the difference between a dream and a desire. Desire is usually something tangible. Becoming its owner, a person usually experiences short-term joy, although, more often, there is a disappointment. We all want to satisfy simple, human needs: to live well or to eat, and this is normal. A dream is what our soul seeks. This is our task, our mission, which is one reason why we came into this world. It's what makes a person truly happy. Therefore, the purpose of this day is concentrate on our conscious desires. For this purpose, you need to find something which is imaginative and inspirational.

It is very important to understand that your task in this practice is not to make a wish, but to trust the universe. That is, you need to start interacting with your subconscious and try to turn off your active thoughts. This state may remind us a little of our dreams, in which we often experience a fantasy world. At such moments, brain activity usually weakens and the person ceases to be in control of his thoughts. The work actively turns on the subconscious. Your task now is simply to fix what comes to you, watching everything objectively.

The fourth day of miracles

The fourth day of miracles is the day of joy. (First, joy then everything else!) The purpose of this day is to acquire spiritual forces. To do this, you need the understanding of your soul. It's time to start a new bright life and it is best with the practice of purification. You need to relieve the burden of problems and get rid of everything superfluous and unnecessary. It may be a beautiful day for general cleaning. Make your order not only in the house, but in your soul. Even if you forget about your grievances. They are hanging invisibly in your heart, occupying a place that should be filled with joy and happiness.

Do not concentrate on the negative. Rather, be positive and leave in your soul only bright memories of the past. For miracles to enter your life, you need to find a place for them. Let go of all your old experiences. Stop being angry and afraid. Do not give way to negative emotions. The universe will help you to do this. It's time to turn the pages of the past. Let go of everything old. Free space for happiness and move towards a new qualitatively of life. The time of wonderful changes in your life can begin!

The fifth day of miracles

The fifth day of miracles is the day of love. The task of this day is to understand that you are worthy of the best. Learn to love yourself and create a space of love around you.

Everything in this world is based on love. Love is the driving force of our lives. Each of us needs love. This is one of the basic human need. Why then are there so many people on earth who are looking for and cannot find it? The fact is that the ability to love and the need to receive love are two different things. If over the years, you have looked for love in vain and have not found it, then the problem is that you do not know how to love yourself. The problem about love, as a rule, occurs in those people who did not receive it in childhood. Lack of the ability to love makes it impossible to accept love. The law of the universe says: give to receive. You need to start with yourself. Learn to love and believe in yourself regardless of your shortcomings and imperfections, just like a mother loves her child. This love should be unconditional, that is, it has no boundaries, no matter what. Only by learning to accept yourself, will you be able to love other people. When you have love in your heart, you will certainly want to share it. And then a real miracle will happen to you. The searching for the right person will be over.

The sixth day of miracles

The sixth day of miracles is the day of gratitude. The purpose of this day is to remember the events that occur in your life and to feel grateful. Do not forget to say thank you for every little thing. This is very, very important.

So, you have already created a time interval of 12 days, during which you are ready to receive miracles. During this period, you need to promise to yourself that you will accept all the surprises that fate has prepared for you with gratitude and appreciation. Do not grumble, do not complain about life, but rejoice and enjoy every minute allocated to you on earth. Try to live it in the best possible way.

Now you are in the middle of the period of miracles. It's been six days of practice. What has changed in your life? Perhaps you have already experienced some unusual events which are new to you. Mentally turn to your guardian angels and thank them for their efforts, because gratitude has tremendous power. Those positive emotions that you should send today to the universe will more than be rewarded and in your life, there will be even more miracles. Start to notice them and learn to thank, be grateful inwardly.

The seventh day of miracles

The seventh day of miracles is the day of faith. Remember: «And according to the strength of your faith you will be given»... This is a day of permanence and inner strength. Believing in a miracle, a person sets himself the highest level bar for success. In dreams everything becomes possible. A person who has true faith achieves great success, as all the forces of the universe will help him. Through faith, you can achieve results that were previously impossible. Is it not a miracle when a transcendental dream, which seemed to a person unreal, becomes reality. «Miracles occur if they are believed in. And the more you believe, the more often they happen,» the French writer-philosopher Denis Diderot believed. Believe in miracles! ... They happen... Life is full of wonder and the greatest miracle is that we can and must create them ourselves!

The eighth day of miracles

The eighth day of miracles is the day of kindness. The task of this day is to learn how to bring good to this world. Think about what a good deed you could do today. Continue to create a space around yourself for positive changes in your life. Make this world better, cleaner, kinder!

Have you ever heard of the law of boomerang? According to him, everything done by man in this world returns to him in triple size. This cosmic law was well known historically our time, however many people seem to have forgotten about it for some reason. If you ask people whether they remember that they were taught not to wish evil to others, then most would probably respond positively. Why then, in fact does everything happen the other way round. It turns out that you need to learn how to control your thoughts once this is done, you will succeed. Just find a little room for kindness in your heart. And remember: “Kindness cannot be distributed, it always comes back”...
