From the author
Dear Guest!

If you flip through the history of my whole life, and this is already 77 years old, it is not difficult to admit that I am the lucky one of the fate given to me from above.

True, in the life of personal relationships, one had to limp and stumble, but this does not count: a lame person will not gallop far, and a person who stumbles will not cry for a long time. And now I have retired for 20 years, so I have more than enough free time, and in my own way, like an old man, I decided to test myself with the weapon of the pen and the word. And so at the beginning of 2017 I started writing the book «Aphorisms and Interpretations about Love and Life», and, to my personal surprise, in 2020 I managed to finish it.

And now I can explain to the reader that my collection of aphorisms and interpretations about love and life is not a scientific work of learned men, but just a work of fiction by a reader of our time. So go on a good journey of knowledge of the world of aphorisms, interpretations, popular advice and tips!
