Копирование методики изложения данного учебника с целью написания рукописи учебного пособия, а именно: подача иностранных / русских слов, знаков препинания в скобках или с соответствующими им русскими / иностранными эквивалентами, разметка предложения специальными обозначениями так, как это показано в данном учебном пособии; переиздание, перепечатка, воспроизведение с помощью электронных средств или любым иным способом всей книги или любой ее части допускается только с письменного разрешения автора.

Аннотация

Учебник состоит из 4 блоков, каждый из которых содержит неадаптированные тесты на всю нормативную грамматику английского языка; упражнения на устный перевод и пересказ неадаптированных английских рассказов одноимённого автора; упражнений на устный перевод с английского на русский и с русского на английский, пересказ и аудирование неадаптированного рассказа С. Крейна. Пособие содержит 13 552 английских слова и идиомы. Тесты имеют ключи. По сложности данная книга соответствует уровням C1 – C2.

Количество слов, которое необходимо знать для следующих целей использования иностранного языка

Для «выживания» в среде без переводчика – 120

Для ежедневного общения на общие темы – 2000

Для чтения несложных текстов общей тематики – 4 000 – 5 000

Чтение сложных текстов – 10 000

Уровень носителя языка – 10 000 – 20 000

Комментарий автора

Считается, что на уровне носителя языка (C2) лексический запас должен составлять не менее 10 000 – 20 000 слов. Давайте разберёмся, что именно это означает, чтобы не строить себе лишних иллюзий.

В данном случае речь идёт именно об активном словарном запасе, а не о пассивном. Активным словарным запасом является тот набор слов, которым говорящий пользуется ежедневно.

Пассивным словарным запасом являются слова и выражения, которые их носитель без труда распознаёт в текстах или речи, и с лёгкостью переводит на свой родной язык, избегая, при этом, их употребления.

Данное учебное пособие содержит 13 552 английских слова и идиомы. То, в каком именно запасе, активном или пассивном, останется у вас данная лексика, целиком зависит от вас.

Этот учебник можно пройти, просто выполнив все тесты и упражнения, как говорится, не напрягаясь, а можно пройти его, как следует, выучив всю предлагаемую лексику. Понятно, что результат во втором случае будет намного выше, чем в первом.

Хотя очень возможно, что пяти таких книг кому-то окажется не достаточно для получения знаний уровня C2. Поэтому в настоящее время к изданию готовится серия подобных учебников.

Рекомендуемый порядок работы над учебниками одноимённого автора «Общий курс английского языка»

1. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 1 (A1 – B2).
2. Практикум по переводу с русского языка на английский. Уровни B2 – C2. Книга 1.
3. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 2 (B2 – C1).
4. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 3 (B2 – C2).
5. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 4 (B2 – C2).
6. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 5 (B2 – C2).
7. Общий курс английского языка. Часть 6 (C1 – C2).

Как работать над учебным пособием

Данное учебное пособие рекомендуется широкому кругу лиц, желающих поднять знание английского языка до уровня C2, и преследует три основные цели:

1. Довести до автоматического уровня понимание основных грамматических явлений английского языка.

2. Выучить все новые слова и идиомы, которые содержатся в тестах и упражнениях, так как от того, насколько хорошо вы овладеете всем словарным запасом этой книги, будет зависеть и уровень ваших знаний.

3. совершенствование восприятия английской / американской речи на слух.

Как работать над тестами

Работу над тестами лучше разделить на два этапа:

1. Выполнение тестов с обязательным заучиванием новых слов и идиом.
2. Работа с ключами – проверка правильности выполнения тестов, чтение, и перевод на русский язык ключей к данным тестам.

Если у вас будут возникать сложности с переводом материала ключей к тестам на русский язык, рекомендую вернуться к тестам, и проделать их устно столько раз, сколько это будет необходимо для полного овладения всем словарным запасом тестов.

Об учебном пособии

Данное пособие является продолжением учебника одноимённого автора «Общий курс английского языка. Часть 5 (уровни B2 – C2)». Оно состоит из 4 блоков, в каждом из которых дана группа тестов и 2 упражнения, направленные на углублённое закрепление и проработку всей нормативной грамматики английского языка, деловой лексики предыдущей части учебного пособия; на устный перевод с русского на английский, с английского на русский, пересказ и аудирование оригинала неадаптированного рассказа Стивена Крейна «The Open Boat».

Тесты и упражнение не адаптированы, материал представлен преимущественно на английском языке. Рекомендую приступить к занятиям по данному учебнику после окончания работы над «Общим курсом английского языка. Часть 5 (уровни B2 – C2)».

Работа по данной книге покажет, насколько хорошо вы проработали грамматику и лексику предыдущей части учебника. В случае добросовестной проработки предыдущей части, вы сможете выполнять тесты и упражнения без использования справочных материалов и словаря

Аудирование

Знание английского языка на уровне C2 предполагает овладение словарным запасом не менее 10 000 – 20 000 слов, всей нормативной грамматикой; а также свободное восприятие английской / американской речи на слух.

Свободное восприятие английской / американской речи на слух

Аудирование – самая сложная, но при этом неотъемлемая составляющая, с которой приходится сталкиваться при изучении английского языка. Однако, данную проблему можно решить, если ежедневно «погружать» себя в английскую и американскую речь. Для этого в интернете есть масса возможностей.

или американское радио

Помимо этого, проблему с аудированием эффективно и сравнительно быстро помогают решить подкасты, содержащие английские / американские тексты с аудио приложениями. Четыре таких подкаста предлагает вам данное учебное пособие.

Ключ к тесту 1

I will attach the report to the task.

We will be having increased the number of unsuccessful transactions in some countries since October till December.

We will have had to discuss it in Zoom with Nick by day's end.

He will have been working with local depositors from these countries today the entire evening until the meeting starts.

Nick, we have got a problem.

The number of unsuccessful transactions across several countries has been increasing over the course of several days.

We have three local depositors from South Africa.

But one of them is at the stage of approval.

Sam has recently brought three clients for a $ 650 top-up.

Joseph has brought 48 clients this week.

But none of them are being replenished now.

No complaints have been received today.

Last year we had partners from this country.

Local depositors were working according to a different scheme during the holidays.

We had had internet banks and a new online Naira payment system for Nigeria until last year.

But the conversion of payments there had been only 40% for several years, before we decided to abandon customers from that country.

The lowest conversion rate was in South Africa.

On average, there had been many new clients from that country until the elections began.

Ключ к тесту 2

I predict that we will have around 600 new customers in September.

About 400 clients will come for the Test Drive campaign.

The number of new replenished clients will be steadily growing from the beginning of September to the end of August.

In total by the end of September there will have been about 1000 new customers.

Tomorrow throughout the evening the finance department will be holding a meeting on this issue, after I have come back to you with the results.

Tomorrow throughout the evening the finance department will have been holding a meeting on this issue, before I come back to you with the results.

I add top partners to the database for 2021 almost daily.

In just a few holidays, the geographic group has sunk 10% from last year.

Since this morning our new employee has been dividing the countries in the database into Abroad and the CIS.

Now I am adding a legend for indicators and a copy taking into account TOP partners.

The employees of our department evaluated the foreign countries in the periods of activity for all clients, as they had done before.

For several days, we were considering the percentage distribution of money and periods of activity.

I had been writing a legend for the report for two days before the meeting started.

There are customers who had signed up 3 months before the audit started.

Their top-ups for the reference period were averaged.

All data was provided without taking into account the customers of TOP partners and branches.

Ключ к тесту 6

I would be extremely surprised if you were told that that we will be given around 600 new customers in September.

I would say that about 400 clients could come for the Test Drive campaign.

I would not believe if I were told that the number of new replenished clients will be steadily growing from the beginning of September to the end of August.

You said that in total by the end of September we would be brought about 1000 new customers.

We were told that if the next day throughout the evening the finance department was holding a meeting on that issue, after I we had been given the results, we could also vote.

She said that if the next day throughout the evening the finance department would be holding a meeting on this issue, before I was sent to you with the results, I could have found out the results of the vote.

She will suspect forgery if she is told that the top partners are added to the database for 2021 almost daily.

He was told that she would suspect forgery if she was told that the top partners were added to the database for 2021 almost daily.

We said that in just a few holidays, the geographic group could be fully explored.

We were told that if since that morning our new employee was dividing the countries in the database into Abroad and the CIS, someone from the staff could handle the organization of the meeting for the delegation from China.

If I add a legend for indicators and a copy taking into account TOP partners, the new indicators will alert all employees.

If the employees of our department evaluate the foreign countries in the periods of activity for all clients, as it was done before, they will not be thrilled.

He said that it would be great if for several days, we were considering the percentage distribution of money and periods of activity.

I would not like if he would be told that I had been written a legend for the report for two days before the meeting started.

What would you say if you had found out that there are customers who had signed up 3 months before the audit started.

You would be never told that their top-ups for the reference period were averaged.

If I did not have another information, I would say that all data was provided without taking into account the customers of TOP partners and branches.

You don't say!

Annotation

This book will tell you about one day in the life of Sofochka Ponce de Leon. Confident that she had finally broken her husband's favorite laptop, she wants to make it up to him. The woman sets off on a difficult journey for a new computer on bumpy roads of Moscow Region.

Illustrations announcement

You don't say!

Sonia, maiden name Utesova, and then Ponce de Leon, was married to a Latin American programmer named David, who was originally from faraway sunny Mexico.

Her husband, having valiantly graduated from the Peoples Friendship University with honors, got a well-paid job in a large Russian company.

It can be said that Sonya, was very lucky to have such a husband, because he doted on his sweetheart, was ready to do anything, or almost everything for her, depending on the amount of money in his bank account.

And that money was always a very limited amount, since Sonya had enormous needs – she wanted everything at once and, moreover, constantly. Sofia got used to dressing in style – she liked the most beautiful and expensive clothes.

At the same time, she bought new things for herself in the most expensive boutiques located in the center of the capital. And then she and her girlfriend went to celebrate another replenishment of the wardrobe to a trendy restaurant, which also very noticeably cost mister Ponce de Leon. Despite all of the above, the family lived in peace and marital idyll.

Laptop

And once Solomonida (as so David lovingly called her) cooked dinner in the kitchen, writing a post for her blog «Everything for the Blondes» and being hung up on a phone call with a friend.

Suddenly, the Ukrainian borsch, which her husband loved so much, began to boil out of the pan directly onto a clean, brand new cooker, washed to a lovely sheen on the eve.

– Shit! – Sonechka cursed out, threw the phone on the open laptop and focused on her borsch.

After the minor kitchen troubles had been eliminated, she returned to the computer and – oh, what the hell! Its screen was black. Deciding that it was hibernating, she rebooted it, but that did not change the situation.

It would seem that the problem could be solved easily by calling her husband or waiting for his return from the office.

But given the fact that three days before, Sofia had cracked his ride all to hell, after which a new one was already bought, since the first one was beyond repair, the woman felt a certain danger, and decided to deal with the computer herself.

Therefore, she invited her best friend, the blonde Julia, to visit her.

Diagnosis

Julia carefully examined the laptop, pushed some buttons on it, but to no avail:

– In my opinion, your laptop is dead! – she diagnosed.

– You don't say! What am I supposed to do now? We've just bought a new car, and a bank credit for my mink coat hangs on David, and it isn't only for the fur coat, he has got a lot of credits for my clothes. And this laptop is so sophisticated, and it's David's favorite one. I think this time there will be a big scandal.

– Come on, everything will work out like the last time. Do you remember when you set fire to your country house, on forgetting to turn off the iron? In general, if I were you, I would buy a new computer, just like this one, maybe David would not notice the substitution.

– Exactly! Why have not I thought of it myself? Let's google the store and go for a new laptop until my husband returns.

So they did. However, they decided not to buy it at the store, they found a used computer by a private announcement on the Avito site, went shopping, but forgot to move the damaged laptop from the table.

It was necessary to go to the suburbs of Moscow, through traffic, by poor roads full of potholes. Therefore, the round trip took them much more time than they had expected:

– ¡Caramba, maldita sea! – Solomonida cursed in Spanish. – David has been at home for a couple of hours, that makes a hundred percent, and we haven't even reached Moscow yet.

Besides, for some reason I turned off the phone, as I was very nervous, but now it's just scary to turn it on. David is so jealous that he can just kill me upon my returning home.

– Well, dude, a scandal is inevitable. There's no way you're getting out of this! As far as I remember, we didn't hide the broken laptop, huh?

– You don't say, shit!

On the stroke of midnight

The clock struck midnight when sneaking on tiptoe, with new laptops in her bag, Sofia entered the apartment and saw the light on in the kitchen:

– Hello, dear! Why are you so late? – a calm voice of her husband came out from the kitchen.

Hardly believing her ears, she left the bag in the corridor, put on her slippers and went into the kitchen, where David was sitting at the table, eating Ukrainian borsch with a wooden Russian spoon and watching some action movie in the same damaged computer.

Then the resourceful woman decided to ask her husband what had exactly happened with that laptop, and made a smart move:

– This morning I tried to turn it on and could not, I thought it had been broken, but you did it, it's strange!

– There isn't anything weird, actually. Perhaps you accidentally pressed the F2 button and thus turned off the screen, that's all.

– What are you saying! Is it so easy? – the confused girl exclaimed, and all the hardships of the past day flashed before her eyes.

– And why are you so late today, after visiting Julia again? At that very moment Solomonida decided to be frank.

You won't believe!

– You won't believe! – she began her story, which was as follows.

After the laptop was diagnosed with a terminal illness, they quickly found the same computer at a reasonable price on the Internet, and, having agreed with the seller, went on a difficult journey by the potholes and pits of the Moscow region.

Over the potholes and bumps of the far suburbs

Not noticing another hump on the road, Sonechka, unable to hold the steering wheel, accelerated for some reason, then gave a sharp brake, they found themselves in a ditch, after which the jeep stalled and did not want to start again.

Having stopped a Mercedes-Benz car passing by, they begged its driver to pull out their car and tow them to the nearest car service center.

He obligingly agreed. And then, being towed by the black Mercedes, two girl- friends, on settling comfortably in their jeep, began to leaf through a fashion magazine.

They were so carried away by its content that Sofochka forgot that after all she should glance at the road.

She only broke away from the magazine when her brand new silver vehicle hit its savior really hard. The Mercedes driver got upset:

– Oh, what have you done, dear lady! Do you have any idea of how much the repair will cost?

– Oh, I've never been towed before. – Sofia hastened to justify herself. – Forgive me, please do not be angry, I will pay you everything, sure, just tow us to the repair shop!

– Okay, let's go further, but I beg. be careful – my car is completely new, as well as yours.

Take two

But there one more time, Solomonida's driving skills failed – despite the fact that she tried her best to keep the right distance, she did not manage to keep her foot on the brake at the right time and, accordingly, drove into Mercedes again.

At the same time, trying to soften the impending collision, the woman began to sharply twist the steering wheel to the left. As a result, the car was driven in the same direction, and, having demolished the taillight and bumper of the unfortunate Mercedes, it drove into the ditch, smoothly pulling the car behind it.

The stunned driver of the latter caught himself in time and rushed forward, not allowing the jeep to slide into the ditch. The owner of the Mercedes got upset:

– Oh, who issued you a driver's license, dear lady? Show me this pest! – he cried with bitterness. – Now you can't pay me off! Well, come on – get into my car, dear ladies, I will bring you to the service, and then the local mechanics will tow your jeep there.

Day results

And so they did. As a result, Sofochka nevertheless paid off both the Mercedes driver and the car service worker who had restored both cars. But all that cost her pretty expensive.

Then the ladies finally got to the seller of the laptop, and Sonya paid for the purchase, discounting the last bit of her money from the credit card. Well, and then, almost without incident, she got home.

It was quite without incident, except for the traffic cop who took away her driver's license and wrote a huge fine for the fact that she, having gotten a little bit lost on the road, twice crossed two solid lines right in front of him.

After that, the car was taken to the impound lot, and she finally got home by taxi.

So Sonya finished her story.

– You don't say! – David exclaimed, scratching his head and trying to realize how such a bunch of troubles could happen to a person in a single day. – Wow!
